

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson—While I was away visiting this summer I met a young fellow who is my cousin's brother-in-law. His birthday is soon. He will be 18 years old. (1) Would it be wrong for me to send him a birthday postcard? I am 16 years old.

(2) Am I too young to have boy friends come to see me on Sunday evening? If I am, how old should I be before I let them call?

BRUNETTE.

(1) He probably would not think any more of you if you sent him a card. I doubt if he thinks enough of you to find out the date of your birthday so he can send you a card. Don't "chase" him, my dear. If he likes you he'll want to be friends of his own accord. (2) You are too young to have boy friends, but I hope you have boy friends and that they visit at your home and you all have a good time together. But don't allow any spooning or sitting alone with you in the parlor, and always tell your parents all about your boy friends, as they are better judges than you about them. You should be 18 before thinking of having a beau.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I went with a fellow about three months and the other night when he came to see me he told me he was going home on Saturday so he could not come to see me Sunday. And on Sunday I went to a park near my home and saw him with two other girls. At first we passed each other without speaking. He put his hand down as if he was ashamed of what he had done. He has telephoned to me several times but I have not been at home. So please advise me what to do.

(2) I have been going with a fellow from out of town, and a girl friend of mine knew that I was keeping company with him.

One Sunday I decided to go to this town with some girl friends of mine and while there saw this fellow with a girl friend of mine. Would you consider this girl a friend of mine?

GIRL OF 19.

(1) His sin was in deceiving you. If you make up with him you never will be able to trust him again. So better let him go. (2) He had a perfect right to go with another girl, as he is not engaged to you. I see no harm in the other girl going with him, as she probably knows you are not engaged to him. Anyway, from your letter I must judge that you have been going with two men at the same time. Was that treating either one of them square?

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What do you think of a man who never cares to take his wife any place? She always has to ask him to go. Then he pays no attention to her, but watches some other woman all the time.

I have never said anything, as he is so high tempered, but it makes me feel bad, as I love him.

We have only been married a couple of years. He says he loves me, but I think if he did he would not try to make a mess on some one else; it makes me look so small.

WORRIED WIFE.

Don't let him see that you love him so much. Go out with him as much as possible, without teasing him to take you. Dress your prettiest, and admire every good looking man you see. If he admires a pretty woman, tell him you think she is pretty, too, but meantime keep your eyes on some other man and occasionally get in a few admiring remarks of your own. That ought to make him pay a little more attention to you.

BOARD WILL ACT DESPITE THREATS

Hints of Modern Woodmen to Move Will Have no Influence on Decision.

No disposition of the complaint brought against the Modern Woodmen of America for the taxation of its reserve fund has yet been made by the board of review.

Despite the warnings emanating from the society's headquarters that its general officers would be moved to Indianapolis should the county insist upon taxing this fund, W. C. Allen, one of the members of the board, today stated that this would have no influence upon the action of the reviewing body and that the case would be decided strictly on its merits.

It was also rumored that an effort would be made to have Harry McCaskrin, the complainant, drop the case. This, too, Mr. Allen stated, would have no influence on the board's action. He stated that inasmuch as the matter had been brought before the attention of the board, it would be forced to go on with the case. The board is in session again this afternoon.

POSTS NOTICES OF A NEW RULING

Rock River and Tributaries Made Part of Fish Preserve—McDole on Job.

Game Warden E. E. McDole and Ed Reed, county court reporter, made a journey yesterday to the mouth of Rock river for the purpose of posting notices from the state game and fish commission, relative to making Rock River and all its tributaries, a part of a state fish preserve, thereby prohibiting the use of all but hand line or rod and line by fishermen in that stream. Heavy penalties are provided for violation.

This is a radical ruling and will mean that the wholesale slaughter of fish at various points along Rock River will have to cease. No netting will be allowed in the future and in this way the fish will be protected and real sportsmen can still be entertained in their efforts to catch the elusive members of the finny tribe.

Materials—Mushrooms, butter, salt, pepper, toast.

Directions—Cut the stems close to the gills, prepare the caps as directed without peeling and place them in a buttered boiler, cap side up under a moderate heat for five minutes; turn, put into the center of each one a tiny bit of butter, a little salt and pepper and broil another five minutes. Have ready squares of buttered toast. Place the mushrooms on top, skin side down so as not to lose any juices. The stems may be used for soup or sauce.

Materials—Mushrooms, one-half pound; eggs, four; water, four tablespoons; salt, butter, three tablespoons.

Directions—Remove the stems close to the gills, clean as directed and slice thin. Put two tablespoons of butter into a sauce pan; when melted add the mushrooms, cover and simmer slowly ten minutes. Put the remaining butter in a steel spider and melt slowly over the fire while beating the eggs without separating only until white and yolk are mixed.

Add water, salt, pepper and lemon juice and when the butter in the spider is hot, but not brown, add the egg mixture and finish cooking until "set." Over this turn the mushrooms. Then with your spatula turn over one-third of the omelet and then fold in once more as you turn it out onto a hot platter. Serve at once. The stems may be cut fine, made into a sauce and poured around the omelet.
